“ There are not enough words to express how much Miss Nina meant to me and my family. She was one of my biggest fans as I was of her's. She was always there for no matter what the circumstances were. She made time for me, listened to me, and made me feel special and loved. She would always try to come up with a solution to help out with any problems or situations that I, or anyone else she cared for would encounter.

She was a constant presence to me in an ever changing world, a stable and safe place to fall, and a trusted friend like no other. She was not only my best friend but she was also like a mother to me. I felt like I had the best of both worlds.

We met 20 years ago at Community Bible Study in Magnolia and we had an instant connection. It was a true blessing from God that carried us through 20 years of every day conversations and every week visits.

I admired Miss Nina and I respected her. I looked up to her and I valued her thoughts and opinions. She had the sweetest voice, the biggest heart, and the kindest soul. She loved my family like her own and she was so good to my two granddaughters Addyson and Hannah.

Miss Nina loved the Lord and she was a witness for Christ. She told me right before she passed away that she had forgiven everyone because God tells us that for us to be forgiven, we have to forgive others.

I will miss so many things about Miss Nina that there are too many to list, but I will especially miss hearing her say her favorite saying just about every day: "That beats all I ever heard or tell all"

Here is a saying that sums up how I feel about Miss Nina:

There is an instinct in a woman to love her own child, and an instinct to make any child who needs her love her own.

Thanks Miss Nina for accepting me, loving me, and making me your own. I love you with all of my heart and I will miss you every single day of the rest of my life.

“ Kathy and John, my thoughts and prayers are with you and your families. You know how I loved going to Kampus Korner and your dad and mom were the greatest. Many memories of our fun times together.

“ I didn't meet Nina until until late in our lives, never the less I quickly and completely fell in love with her. She and my wife have a very special bound, a bond that was more like sisters than aunt and niece. I enjoyed listening to my wife's voice as it turn to a sing-song style when they were talking on the phone and Nina's pronouncing Freida as Freder. If anyone could have witnessed the interaction between these two women they would clearly understand the full concepts of respect and love.

Nina I miss you and I love you.

“ Nina was my aunt but she was more like a sister and sometimes a Mother. I lived with my grandparents until I was in the fourth grade so Nina was a part of my everyday life. She curled my hair and offered me comfort when I needed it. She spent her 11th grade school year living with me. my brother and Mom because my Mom needed someone to see about us. She was wonderful, caring, loving and fun. I will always be grateful and thankful for her. She called me Freder. She was always doing for others. Her heart was huge. My heart is broken.
