“ I don't even know where to start. this girl was one of a kind. she was the sweetest person in the world. i'm so glad i had the chance to be her friend. the things i really admired about her were the way she would open up so quickly and be there for people who really needed it. i'm really glad i messaged her that day in 2016. little did i know the huge impact this girl would leave in my life. she would always tell me about her problems and id always listen, whenever she needed to talk about her feelings i'd let her know that i would always be there to listen to her. i always made sure she knew her worth, to not let others bring her down, i'd give her pep talks every now and then when she needed to hear it. i remember my favorite memory with her i'll never forget, she had said she couldn't sleep and needed a friend to talk to so i texted her and we ended up talking for hours, we actually stayed up all night even. this girl was super energetic, she really brightened up my life when i needed it the most. she's such a beautiful dancer, i always admired that about her as well. she was such a beautiful soul, she really deserved the world no matter what. i loved talking to her so much. i'll never forget when i saw her at a school event and i said hello and she came up and gave me a big hug and i was just so happy to see that big smile and cheerful attitude she had, i always knew she was such a strong powerful girl. the way she would stay strong during hard times made me look up to her in a way. when she had moved schools we drifted apart, but i didn't resent her for it, i know she was moving on for the better to start a new beginning, i loved watching her start somewhere new, something she has always wanted and that was amazing to see. i pray for you so much, i know this is something so major to deal with but i know she's still watching over us and she would want us to keep going and stay strong. words can't even express how much i miss the girl. i've been thinking about her so much lately, she's always going to live on in our hearts. i love you adrienne, there will never ever be a day where i don't think about you. i know you're in a better place, adrienne forever 💜

“ I didn't know Adrienne that well but we were in the same class in our freshman year.
I wish I could have known her but I was too jealous to even think about talking to her.. I wish I didn't let it get to me. I wish I could have talked to her.. I remember there was one time I was sad and I felt like I didn't want to be around anymore... I went to school and she smiled at me she asked how my day was and I said good and because of her I meet a friend that helped me through the year...I am forever grateful to her.. and I send my prayers and thoughts to the family.

Romans 8:38-39

38 For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, 39 neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

“ Adrienne and I went to Postma together , we were in the same class for two years in a row and became very close. Even after elementary school we kept in touch . It was just last week where she congratulated me on making my dance team , and now this...I never saw it coming. Never thought I'd say goodbye to someone I went to school with this early :( Rest In Peace beautiful. ♡

“ I am very sorry for your loss. I hope and pray that you all find peace and comfort soon. I went to school with Hardy and met Adrienne once in passing at the Nacogdoches Wal-Mart, a very long time ago. It was the last time I physically saw Hardy. He loved her and now they are together watching over you all. Having a daughter of my own, it broke my heart finding out about your loss which I can't imagine how you feel. Please reach out to me if yall need anything. I am sorry I cannot be there to celebrate her life but know that my family and I are praying for you all. -Kenneth Blanton and family
