“ Anthony was genuine and appreciated function and simple effectiveness of design and purpose. I am fortunate to have met him in 1988 when I first moved to Houston from Ft Worth. I worked with him on and off for about 32 years. we built a good portion of Houston together, in that sense, he was a brother in arms. Off work we shared interests in woodworking, gardening, cooking and improving methods and durability of things around the house. So, I look forward to meet up with him again and see what he's been up to. I'm sure it will be something I have an interest in.
