“ Dearest Chris, we remember years ago all gathering in your mum's cosy kitchen, having tea and biscuit with you always looking lovely with your beautiful blond hair always immaculate. We laughed a lot and sometimes shed a few tears, with your dear mum and Shirley always by your side. We remember when Aunt Fran came to visit, there would be family parties with lots more laughter. You was always very calm, your sweet nature always shone through. Destiny bought you and Wayne together, you met just across the road from your home, you made the perfect couple and as the years went by your beautiful children Mark and Debbie came along. We remember you visiting when you were over England one time, we laughed and talked about when we were young. The years seem to pass with a blink of an eye, but we will always remember those happy early years, we were all young together, family was and is everything.

Our family who came from the East End of London told us that Londoners are the "salt of the earth" and they were all Cockneys through and through. Our connection with our roots stayed strong in you and all of us, despite the miles apart..

God Bless you both. Your cousins Sharon and Vicki xx.

Chris was one of several "Baby Boom" cousins born into our family. I remember Chris as quiet, unassuming and always up for a laugh. We both once worked for a seed merchants called J D Gillett where Chris was in the office and I was in the warehouse.

Once Chris married and moved to the USA contact was limited but on the occasions her and Wayne came to England they always popped to see my mum, Aunt Pat and of course the rest of us. In recent years contact was more by telephone.

We had mutual interest conversations about our ancestry, including our respective DNA results.

I once received a surprise phone call from Chris. She had rung to congratulate me on my 70th birthday. A memory I treasure to this day and one that reflects the thoughtful, caring person that she was.

Rest in peace dear cousin.

“ I have lots of happy and fond memories of my dear cousin Chris, both about 18years old and full of fun and mischief we would go every Saturday night to the Rose and Crown Hotel in Wisbech the local dance hoping to meet some handsome lad. But just both had good times together and lots of laughter. Going on holiday together to Butlins Holiday Camp as it was known in those days. Chris was such a caring ,kind and loving person just like her mumdear Aunt Flo who was always so kind to me and these things I will always remember and never forget. Chris will always be with and in my heart always. Rest in peace my darling love always.xxxxxxxxxxxxxx.
