“ David,
I thought about you just a minute ago, so maybe you were trying to contact me. I didn't know you had left this realm a while back. I don't know what dimension you are in today, but I'm sure they are better off with you there.

Thank you for always making those long nights at Lexicon some of the most enjoyable and memorable that I will ever have. Always thinking of others before yourself.

I will never forget you and all the crazy stuff you taught me.

Looking forward to our next cup of coffee and cig together. Until then... Love you Brother

“ David was more than I could ever put down on paper. He became my best friend, my little brother from the moment we met in the late 1990's at compaq. We traveled on together to the next job at Lexicon, starting the same day and staying for a very long time. Well until we bith got laid off but at different times. Our friendship took us on many adventures together and involving him in my families lives. We all loved him dearly. I was so Blessed to call him my best friend! I know he is in Heaven and in no more pain. He is with Jesus and his family and friends that went before him. His journey is done her on earth!!! But eternity is the forever now! Love you David. I will see you again. ❤️
