“ Dr. Stubblefield was a distinguished Professor at MD Anderson Cancer Center for many years. I will be forever grateful for the mentoring, education and training that I received from him as one of his many graduate students. He was a brilliant scientist, a pioneer in the field of chromosome structure and cell biology, an outstanding teacher, and an equally outstanding mentor and role model. Dr. Stubblefield was also a kind and caring person who was loved by so many at MD Anderson. I will treasure the memories of working in his lab and his excitement over even the smallest discoveries that we made together. What a life well lived. His discoveries will live on as will his teaching and mentoring those of us who have passed that knowledge on to the next generation. His Christianity was always foremost in all that he did and all that he was. He will be deeply missed by those of us who had the honor of knowing him and learning from him.

My deepest condolences to the family.

“ I have always remembered Elton as a wonderful Christian example and leader at West University Church of Christ. Some of his teachings remain significant with me and I am most grateful for them. I know he is resting high on that mountain up there; but will be missed by all that knew him on his way. I know we will all see him some day.. "When we all get to Heaven....and what a day of rejoicing that will be."
