

Haschal Weaver

February 17, 2024

Haschal Weaver was an incredible man who always put everyone before himself. He adored his wife of 68 years, Carolyn Weaver. He loved a great joke and laugh. His grandchildren and great-grandchildren brought him so much joy. He has lifelong friends that made his life special. He started his company, Air Communications in 1969 and had employees that worked for him over 30 years. He will be missed dearly by all that came into contact with him.

The Addison family and staff of Magnolia Funeral Home extend condolences to the Weaver family during this difficult time.

I took that picture at 4:15 and I cooked the meal for everyone that night. I decorated each table for each family with love. I dearly miss both Haschall and Carolyn. Sending my condolences.

He will be so greatly missed. I sent him a message tonight and he did not reply. I thought to check for him and found this obituary. I truly loved him and Carolyn. Tonight I want to celebrate and say a prayer for the most beautiful amazing couple I have met and had the pleasure to work with.

“ Haschal is the kindest man and best friend of my father, Bill Dryden, we will miss him dearly. He also saved me from drowning when I was 6 years old so I owe him greatly. Always made our vacations together so much fun, so many memories from Lake Travis, and I'm glad he was in San Antonio with us recently. Our thoughts and prayers are for Kellie, Scooter and his family. We will see you again one day, love Stacy McGraw
