“ You came into my son's life when he had no idea what he was doing with it. You kept him outta trouble & were always there for him when he just needed a friend. He called you his best friend, his big brother, his motivation. You were there for him when he got in his accident & even talked me down from a full blown mother's panic over the phone while assuring me he was ok & you were helping with his car. Our family was blessed when you became his friend. You made such a huge impact on his life & I've come to see you made that impact on so many others lives. You will truly forever & always be cherished & missed ❤️

“ Even though miles came between us and life happened, you were always my other brother Jesus Delepaz. You helped me though some of the deepest darkest parts of my life and made me who I am today. We were workout parts cause we were some of the strongest in our class, we played football together til I messed up my shoulder, you picked me up and made me laugh when I was feeling down. With breakups, you were always there, when my grandma passed away, you were there. You were and always will be one of my brothers. I remember when we got pulled over on the four wheeler and I got four tickets with the four wheeler being towed and you were making fun of the cop the whole time 😂 Mom and dad always had plenty of food at the house cause they knew you and I could literally eat them out of house and home.. Let's not forget, your dad made us breakfast tacos and made the hottest green sauce I've ever had in my life! I got the hiccups and all we could do was laugh 😂 Even though months went by without us talking, you were always my brother. I love you brother and I'll see you again Jesus Delepaz.

“ Inseparable is the word that comes to mind when I think of us back when we were kids. You were my best friend, a brother. You had my back. From dressing up as redneck twins on spirit week during high school or rough housing in my parents house throwing screwdrivers at each other resulting in a shattered sliding glass door, tying a rope to a hammer and throwing it up in a tree for it to only fall and go through the windshield of my truck, we were inseparable. You filled the room with laughter everywhere you went. You had a heart of gold.

I love you and miss you brother. I will forever hold on to all the great memories we had together. Watch over me and my family. Say hello to my dad for me and please annoy him like we use to.
