“ Hey uncle kenny, it's been almost four months since you went to heaven and you cross my mind all the time. You always let me know you're here. I miss you and wish you were still here. I feel like there was so much time left, but nothing is guaranteed and i'm learning that. I love you. □□□□□

“ The first time we met I fell in love with everything about you. Your smile, your goofy, your goofy laugh, and your ability to solve every difficulty with a smile and great attitude. We were opposites in so many ways and alike at the same time. You taught me so much about love and life. You were my handy man, my Mr. Fix-It. We were young and it was us against the world, like two sparrows in a hurricane. Unfortunately, we couldn't find our way, we let to much get in the way and we drifted apart but not before the world blessed us with a beautiful boy. He carries the love we shared for each other within him. He's beautiful and brave. He has your smile, your goofy laugh and your ability to handle difficulties with a smile and such grace. We were robbed of so much time and so many memories and that is the hardest part of your passing!! I love you Kenny Wayne, fly high and keep a spot warm for me!! You were taken too soon and you will be missed by so many.

“ Death is always hard but this hit really hard! I know life and time has pulled us apart but that would never change how close we were growing up! Cousins are the first best friends you have in life and this couldn't be more true when it comes to you guys! You were always more than just a cousin, you were more like a brother! I don't have very many childhood memories that don't involve you guys! The one thing that stands out the most was your smile, you always had that little smirk on your face. I wish I had the chance to see that "Murray grin" (what my momma calls it) one more time! Rest up Wayne, you'll definitely be missed! 💔

“ Your wings were ready but our hearts were not. I will forever remember your contagious laugh and glowing smile. I cannot fathom the fact that you are gone, but I know that you are in God’s loving arms & watching over all of us. Our pain will fade but your memory will not. You were a dedicated, hardworking, strong-willed, loving person and I am Blessed to say you were my Uncle. I love you Uncle Kenny ❤️

“ I was pretty young but I will always remember your goofy & silly personal that made everyone laughter. It was never a dull moment with you. Y’all were more like brothers and sisters. I know it’s been while since we seen it but the childhood bond we will never be forgotten and I will always cherish the moments we had together. You were the first and last person to get me to try mustard in cereal 🍌 I will always cherish the moments we had and you always had a special place in heart into we made again. Fly high beautiful angels. I love you and I can’t to meet again. It doesn’t seem really I wish I could see your face one more, give you a hug, tell you how much I love you, & to heard your laughter one more time. ❤️❤️❤️ Xoxo
