“ My wife, my love. LaVerne was everything the Bible says a wife should be. All my life she kept me on course doing the things God wanted me to do even when my ambition tried to drag me in other directions. Now, every moment of every day her memory remains just below the surface waiting for the sound of a shared piece of music, the sight of a familiar place or the smell of something good we both shared. For now. I am lost without her. I look forward to and long for our meeting in Eternity.

“ I remembered Mrs. Sexton very well. I was privileged to have her as a teacher in third grade. She was a true lady that meant business. She had control of her classroom as well as her students. She didn't play. She would paddle you and it would hurt for a few moments, then it would cool off. I was also blessed to attend public schools at Magnolia Elementary, Intermediate, and High school with her niece, Dana Cook, It was an honor to be around this wonderful family who made me the person I am today. Thank God I got the chance to tell her that before she departed from this world. Mrs. Sexton can now take her rest after laboring and toiling with us kids from school days. Love you much Sexton and Cook families.

“ My beautiful Aunt, Lavern Sexton, always known to me as Aunt Vern, passed away October 26th, 2024. Normally writing a remembrance for someone I loved comes easily for me, but for once I'm at a loss for words. When I was a child, every weekend she would come to my house or I would be at hers, always making chocolate chip cookies or homemade pies. She was an excellent cook and involved me in every step while making a meal. My love of cooking came from her. She loved beautiful jewelry and I will always think of her when I see something unique & extravagant. She loved flowers and lush gardens. She had exquisite taste when it came to furniture and home decor. She had exquisite taste in everything! She was my Aunt Vern, and it will never seem real that she is gone. She will be forever missed and never forgotten.

“ Laverne, born at home in Richards, was beautiful from the beginning: blond hair, blue eyes, fair skin, a definite copy of her father. She was always sweet, kind and quiet.

The fifth child of seven and the fourth girl of five sisters: Patricia, Jeanne, Gloria and Virginia, “the Cook Girls.” We were between two brothers, Roy the oldest and Henry the youngest. The boys loved her chocolate pies!

From a toddler she always wanted the bow ties on her dresses to be tight and for everything to match.

As a teenager she loved my Michael and Leah, the first two grandchildren. She dressed Mike in a seersucker suit and took him to the hospital to meet his baby sister, Leah. She often visited Eric for events at his home.

As the years passed, she gravitated to the newest, nearest batch of nieces and nephews: Stacey, Jeff, Dustin and Brad were especially close to her.

She loved all her nieces and nephews just as they loved her. Stacey and Dustin were with her until the end.

Laverne loved children and taught school in Magnolia and Tomball for forty-four years.

She was a wonderful sister; we will all miss her greatly.

“ She was a very special lady. When I was in high school I was her student aide. We became friends and I’ve never forgotten her. Saw her several months ago and we had a nice walk down memory lane. My condolences to her family.
