“ I remember anytime my family and I would go over to the Hernandez house for any occasion, or get together at the pavilion for a party or celebration, my Madrina never passed up the opportunity to SING! You could see the joy it it would bring to her and it resonated with anyone near by or listening. She was such a strong soul and her love for God was powerful and known to anyone who got the chance to know her. I will never forget how she would give me small bits of advice on how to carry the grace of God in everything I do. No matter what was going on at that moment in time, now matter how young or old I was, she would remind me that there is something God was trying to show me and to always be open to the beauty of his teachings and love. She leaves behind such a legacy of strength and kindness through her love for God, her friends and family, and I will always be grateful that I got to share a small part of it.
