“ Paul Rau, humble servant, relentless believer, and loyal friend. His faith was sufficient. Paul was the proverbial iron in my father's life, and my father equally the iron in Paul's life. Their love and respect for each other established a great platform for decades of sharpening. I wonder when Paul and Dad meet in Heaven, without and deep theological issues to debate or ministry to the lost, how will they spend their time?

Thank you for all the memories. Thank you for doing your part to expand the Kingdom of Heaven here on earth!
