“ Sam, friends and family. We may have been good friends in the the 60's and 70's in Kent and Auburn Washington but in my heart we never stopped being friends and brothers. From time before your first move to Texas, the time we spent together during the time you spent in Auburn at your mom and dad's upolsteryy business BG's were some of the best years of my life. You have been and always will be in my heart. Rest in pease my friend.

“ Sam was my oldest sisters first born son, he was my nephew. I'm six months younger than Sam, so it was always a little strange when he called me Aunt Linda, but I embraced it. We grew up together, we were each other's playmate and best friend. I have so many special memories of our days together. I would stay with them and learn the ways of city living, then he would stay at my house and I would show him how country folk lived. Fun times!!!
He taught me how to make fancy ham sandwiches and the correct way to fry bacon. He was the oldest so he was my mentor.
As teenagers we got in trouble a few times and he never approved of my boyfriends. Lol
We grew up and moved far away from each other, but that bond was always there.
I loved him and I will never forget him.
Rest In Peace Dear Nephew.
