“ The out pouring of memories and love for Bart was enormous when the news of his passing hit his Rugby club, the Houston Heathens. It was amazing to see not only how many shared their thoughts about Bart but the deep appreciation and love for him both on and off the field.

One recurring message was that Bart was liked by everyone and one of the kindest guys on the club. Fun to be around, great personality with a lot of laughter shared.

As a rugby player, Bart contributed to the winning of many trophies won by the Heathens during their championship run. Bart was present for every practice and game, ultimate team player. He left 'his all' on the field.

Bart's passing brought back many wonderful positive memories with the near 100 members of Houston Heathens Rugby Club and our time together.

And in all of those happy thoughts and memories, Bart Firestone was always present, front and center. Not to be forgotten.

Rest in peace Bart Firestone.....
